The sixth annual NSF Cyber-Physical Systems Principal Investigators' Meeting will take place on Monday, November 16 and Tuesday, November 17, 2015 at the Renaissance Arlington Capital View (RACV) Hotel located in the Crystal City Community of Arlington, Virginia at 2800 South Potomac Avenue, Arlington, Virginia 22202. The RACV is 0.9 miles from the Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA).

The CPS Principal Investigators' Meeting provides a forum for a wide range of stakeholders in academia, industry, and Federal agencies to review new developments in CPS foundations, to identify new, emerging applications, and to discuss technology gaps and barriers. The program of the meeting will include presentations about projects funded by NSF and other agencies, keynotes, panels, discussion groups, and poster& demonstration sessions.

As in previous years, each PI was asked to upload to the CPS VO a YouTube-like video.
